

Structured Roman Blinds are versatile, practical, and very popular in the current design trend towards a clean, sleek, uncluttered look. Roman blinds can be used on their own or to complement drapes: If you want your window frame to be featured, put a roman blind inside the frame to show off the wood trim rather than covering it with drapes.

If classic (structured) roman blinds are not for you, consider relaxed roman blinds. They are softer and more flowing.

Sheer Roman Blinds provide privacy without cutting out light if you choose sheer fabric without lining. Sheer roman blinds can be structured or relaxed. A sheer roman blind is very effective in hiding an ugly view, while still allowing light into the room.
