

Sheer drapes have come a long way in the last decade. White or cream-coloured sheers are always a good choice, but sheer fabric is now available in almost any colour with various interesting designs. Sheer drapes are ideal to provide privacy but still allow light into the room. The opaqueness of the sheer fabric and the fullness of the drapes will determine how much privacy and light they provide.